FINANCES OF THE CITY.

The Debt Increasing.

NEW YORK, September 5, 1873.

The City Finances.

An analysis of the municipal finances presented by Comptroller Green in his annual report shows that the permanent debt of the city is increasing with frightful rapidity, and that the taxes and assessments are enormous, as they are totally inadequate to meet the charges against them. The receipts from taxes and income the past year were $32,250,000, and the amount expended was $52,390,000. It is said that the system of book-keeping in the Comptroller's Department is designed to conceal the actual financial condition of the city, and that the report just made shows how necessary it is that the new Commissioners of Accounts should have clerks to help them comprehend the chaos of city and county accounts.

Excitement in Wall Street.

The Commercial says Wall street is wild with rumors relating to the inability of leading "bulls" in gold to make good their engagements. Indeed, it is circulated on the street that nearly every house that has been closely connected with the leaders in the "bull" market will go by the board and be hopelessly ruined. The leading banks who have been backers of the "bulls" have deserted them, and are now trying to secure themselves. Such are the rumors of the street.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: The "bull" clique in gold is the "bear" clique in stock, and led by the same man. Jay Gould is on the "short" side of almost everything on the active list of stocks, and particularly in Western Union, which he has sold speculatively to an enormous extent. He would have been cornered in this stock long ago had it not been for his connection with the late Horace F. Clarke, and during his life-time availed himself of that gentleman's connection with the company to borrow reserved stocks belonging to the company, and thereby make good his deliveries. Now, however, the day of settlement is approaching and to-morrow this borrowed stock must be returned to the company. In order to meet his contract Gould has been borrowing stock from various parties, and is now seeking to make up the balance by covering some of his "shorts;" but before doing so he seeks to break the market, and hence his raids of yesterday and to-day. In raiding upon stocks to-day he has sold everything on the list, not sparing his long stock, and hence the decline in Hannibal & St. Joseph, Northwestern and St. Paul. The break in Western Union has not been very great, because that stock has been vigorously sustained by the Vanderbilt clique brokers, and only broke to 90¾, from which there was a sharp reaction. The ability of Vanderbilt to take all the Western Union that Gould dare sell is unquestioned. Whether the Commodore will do so is another question. The "short" interest of Gould will be greatly increased by this movement of to-morrow, and next week we may expect the "bulls" to turn upon him. At least this would be a perfectly natural course for them to pursue, considering the trouble he has given them. If Gould should fail to deliver the borrowed stock to-morrow, there will doubtless be considerable excitement in the vicinity of the Stock Exchange.

Change in the St. J. & D. C. R. R. Directory.

A majority of the Board of Directors of the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company have resigned, and Jose F. Navarro, George F. Forrest, Lawrence Wells, Thomas U. Smith, Augustus F. Smith, Edward W. Mealey and Henry H. Butterworth have been elected to fill the vacancies. A committee has been appointed to make a thorough investigation of the affairs of the company and to confer with the bondholders. The officers of the company have tendered their resignations, to take effect on the election of their successors.

A Mystery being Solved.

The Tribune says the mystery as to where the money of the Brooklyn Trust Company and the City Treasury of Brooklyn went to is rapidly being solved. E. T. Mills the late President of the Trust Company, was induced to invest the funds of the bank in a railroad, and also in a sewing machine company located in a suburb of Philadelphia. The latter concern was a "ring" affair and proved an utter failure. Mr. Sprague, the Brooklyn City Treasurer, has been a director in the sewing machine company, and says the whole scheme was gotten up by Mills and Rodman.

An Alleged Bond Forger Under Arrest.

The police have had confined at the headquarters, for some days past, an unknown man, accused of being concerned in counterfeiting the bonds of the Buffalo, New York and Erie Railroad. The police refuse to give his name or proofs of the alleged crime.

A Mystery in Williamsburg.

A slight fire occurred last night at 199 Ninth street, Williamsburg, and when the flames were extinguished, the body of Margaret Hammil was found burned, and a piece of bed cord tied around her neck. The occupants of the apartment have been arrested.

Stock Exchange Settlements.

The announcement that the Stock Exchange would adopt the English mode of settlements is premature. None of the modifications of the rules have been considered by the board, and it is doubtful if they will ever be adopted.

Tornado in Massachusetts.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., September 5.—A tornado swept through Granby, Hamshire county, yesterday afternoon, entirely demolishing the house and barn of Edwin Slater, unroofing other buildings, uprooting trees, destroying crops, &c. Northampton had a similar visitation in the evening, when the barn of Alfred Starkweather was blown down, Williams' basket factory partly demolished, and Clapp's foundry unroofed. The path of the latter gale extended across the town from west to east, and was only ten rods wide.

Marine News.

PHILADELPHIA, September 5.—The steamship Kenilworth, from Liverpool, has arrived.

POLITICAL.

California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—Returns from the precincts come in slowly. No ward is complete. There is some doubt of the election of Bartlett, the anti-railroad candidate for the Senate. Otis, for Mayor, is ahead of McDonald, Democrat, by a good majority. Crowly, for Chief of Police, taxpayers, is beaten about 2,500.

Returns from the interior are imperfect, but show a great victory for the people. Sacramento, San Jaque, Santa Clara, Los Angeles, Alameda, Contra, Costa, Yolo and Colusa declare for the People's (independent) ticket. The Democrats claim a small gain in the Legislature. Close figuring is required to settle the Senatorial contest.

Meeting of Colored Voters of Dayton, Ohio.

DAYTON, September 5.—The meeting of colored voters of Dayton to-night, called by Sol Day, sympathizing with the Chillicothe movement, was attended by two-thirds of the colored voters of the city. Resolutions endorsing the Chillicothe declarations, written by Day, together with one asserting no intention to weaken the Republican party, were voted down by a decisive majority. The chairman, in sympathy with Day, managed the meeting like a smart politician, and in announcing the vote on the resolutions only gave the yeas (25), but omitted to declare the nays. Day, perceiving his resolutions would be lost, moved an adjournment, but the motion was not put. The Chillicothe party, led by Day and Clemens, who spoke for the resolutions, professed their old regard for the Republican party, and would abide with it, but held that to get their rights they must contend for them.

Butler Jackson Smith, a disabled soldier, and others, strongly opposed the resolutions. They held that they had more rights than they had ever hoped to enjoy, and at the proper time would get office. The defeat of the Chillicothe maneuvre was received with hearty cheers. The meeting was orderly, but much feeling was manifested.

The Contest in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, September 5.—The following is the latest figuring in the gubernatorial contest: Washburn, 299; Butler, 262; doubtful, 25.

A Chairmanship Declined.

BOSTON, September 5.—Mr. Gooch declines to preside over the Republican Convention at Worcester on Wednesday.

THE CHOLERA.

WHEELING, September 5.—Three deaths occurred from cholera in this city yesterday and last night. Two new cases are reported this morning.

Millersburg, Ky.

CINCINNATI, September 5.—The cholera epidemic in Millersburg, Kentucky, is abating, only two deaths having occurred yesterday. The provisions having given out, citizens of Paris, Kentucky, are sending them cooked food, &c., and the City Council made appropriations for their benefit.

ST. LOUIS.

The Post Office Assessments.

ST. LOUIS, September 5.—It is alleged that a paper was circulated among the Post Office clerks yesterday asking them to approve of Postmaster Filley's five per cent. assessment on their salaries, and commending him for his refusal to give the press or the public any information relating to the matter. Some of the clerks are said to have refused to sign the paper.

Horrible Accident at a Mill.

DETROIT, September 5.—A horrible accident occurred at the mill of the Rochester Salt and Lumber Company, opposite Saginaw City, about ten o'clock this morning. Jno. Butler, an employe of the mill, in stepping over the main belt, was caught, carried to the top of the drum, and the space between the floor and drum not being sufficient for the body to pass through, he was crushed to death. The body was wedged in so tightly that in order to recover it they were obliged to cut through the floor from above. Butler was about fifty years of age and had a large family, which was dependent on him for support.

On Thursday, 25th, Directors are invited to attend and discuss matters pertaining to the school interest, of which uniformity of text books in the county will be one subject.

ON Saturday morning last an old gentleman named Shaffer met with an accident which resulted in his death two days afterwards. He lived in West Virginia, near Ice's Ferry; had been at Stewarton station, visiting a daughter, and was on his way home afoot. After passing through Uniontown, he got on the railroad leading to Fairchance Furnace, and whilst attempting to cross the bridge just this side of Jesse Reed's mill, his foot caught on a cross tie, causing him to stumble and fall into the creek bed below, a distance of about ten feet. He was shortly afterwards conveyed to Mr. Isaac Brownfield's residence, and a physician sent for, who found that the man had sustained a fracture of the left thigh, and was suffering from internal injuries, from which he died on Monday night. Deceased was about seventy years of age.

THE Youngstown Register says the A. Y. & R. and P. & R. Railroad war has terminated, in advance of the decision of the Judge, by the withdrawal of legal proceedings, and an agreement that the Painesville & Youngstown Railroad shall cross the Ashtabula, Youngstown & Pittsburgh Railroad on trestles, which are to be replaced by a bridge spanning the right of way by July 1st, 1874.

CHARLES RUSHMAN, of Richland township, Marion county, had a three hundred dollar Norman horse and a three cent dog. They both played together with the children in the dooryard. A few days ago the dog commenced jumping and barking at the horse, and the horse backed onto the top of a well, which gave away, and the horse sat down in the bottom of the well. Rushman still owns the dog, but he has got rid of paying tax on the horse.

A Live Institution

Is that of C. West, Nos. 165, 167 and 169 Liberty street, which is turning out the finest assortment of carriages, and also doing the most extensive business in the repairing line. The popularity of this carriage establishment is accounted for by reason of the care, caution and circumspection used in the make up of a new article, or the repair of a damaged one. Neatness, strength and durability are aimed at in all their work.

Worth Knowing.

Messrs. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn street, east of the railroad crossing, are offering a very large and very excellent stock of furniture at prices which are exceedingly low, in order that they may clear out the present stock for future purchases. Their goods are first class, best style of finish, best quality of material, and to make the most durable.

Canadian Pacific Railroad Scandal Investigation.

CANADA.

Pacific Railroad Scandal Investigation.

TORONTO, September 5.—In the second day's proceedings of the royal commission the first witness called was Victor Hudson. He knew nothing about negotiations between Sir Hugh Allan and Americans; was a member of Cartier's election committee; knew large sums of money were subscribed by his friends towards elections; heard Sir Hugh Allan was a subscriber; did not know to what amount.

The committee adjourned for an hour to allow Beatty's letters, which were produced yesterday by Sir Francis Hincks, to be taken down and appended to his evidence. The first letter points out to Sir Francis the feasibility of constructing a Pacific Railway, mainly by the instrumentality of American capitalists and such Canadian influence and capital as could be subsidized. Sir Francis, in reply, shows that Beatty and the American company which he represented were under a misapprehension respecting the railway and the policy of the Canadian Government. If American capitalists entered the company, an equal number of Canadian capitalists of equal means must also be interested. It was neither the intention nor the place of the Canadian Government to name the parties in connection with the proposed work. The first thing for the Government to consider was the amount of land grants and money they would give to aid the road. Before a policy was decided upon no proposition could be entertained.

Beatty's second letter is similar to the first, only that he announces himself as a representative of American gentlemen desirous of engaging in the enterprise, and urging upon Sir Francis the necessity of improving the time.

Sir Francis replies in a letter, intimating that Beatty did not know what he was talking about, and that he, Keosteman and others had, by injudicious proceedings, injured a great undertaking.

Nothing of importance was done in the afternoon session. There are no more witnesses on hand, but some are expected to-morrow. Sir Francis Hincks slightly amended one of his answers, in this manner: It was never proposed by any one to give a charter, and the Government never contemplated giving it to any one until the failure of the efforts to amalgamate the two Canadian companies.

HALIFAX.

Particulars of the Wrecking of the Steamer Saltwell.

HALIFAX, September 5.—Fifteen of the crew of the steamer Saltwell, lost on Say shoals, on the 24th ult., have arrived here. They give the following account of the disaster: When within twenty miles of Sidney a thick fog set in, accompanied by a gale, and the Captain, afraid of being driven ashore, put the ship about to head off the land. The engines were driven at full speed, but the wind meantime increased to a hurricane and the ship could make no headway against it. About 11 P. M. the ship struck. The first boat attempted to be launched was the starboard life-boat. In assisting to get this boat out, Chief Engineer McIntosh, who was standing on the rail, lost his balance, fell into the sea and perished. Five men got into this boat, but in the confusion of the moment they cut away the "after fall," letting the boat drop stern foremost. While suspended by the bow the men were washed out, and the boat was smashed against the ship. Another lifeboat and the cutter were launched with great difficulty, the Captain taking charge of the former and giving orders that the two boats should leave the ship together and keep as near as possible to each other. When about to leave the ship the Captain looked over the side to apprise those in the cutter, but she was not to be seen, and has not since been heard of. The probability is that those in charge left at once and got lost among the breakers in making for the shore. There were seven men in the cutter. Fifteen of the crew were lost and fifteen saved.

He also demands absolute powers in dealings with insurgents. The Cortes will meet in secret session to-morrow, to settle the crisis. When the new ministry is organized Senor Salmeron will probably be chosen President of the Cortes.

These eight distilleries were in close proximity to each other, and there was reliable information of twenty or twenty-five more being operation in South Mountain, but further progress was stopped by the interference of the State authorities, Lieutenant Mast and Deputy Marshal T. Deaver being arrested upon a bench warrant from Judge Clark for destroying property.

THE McCULLY-CLARK CASE.

Further Cross-examination yesterday before the Register.

The cross-examination of Robert D. Clark, in the McCully bequest case, was resumed again yesterday, at the office of Register Gray. The following was elicited: "I wrote but one paper, that was with a steel pen; Mr. McCully did not read the paper in the Market House; he read it about ten o'clock in the bank; he did not tell me he was going to Mr. Wood's office that day in relation to the water works viewer's report; I saw Mr. McCully about one o'clock on the same day at the Dispatch office. I met him there by accident; I think that he told me he had been up to the Court House; he signed another bond here without reading it. He did not seem perplexed about anything. When Mr. McCully signed my paper I did not tell him the amount he was on my paper for. He never inquired. I don't think I ever told him what he had endorsed for me; when he first spoke of this friendship bond I do not know how much he was on my paper for; I do not think he meant that bond was to be my protection against these endorsements. I think I was to get the money outside when he died. He said when he gave me it he did not want me to be troubled about any endorsements when he died. I did not tell Mr. McCully what Mr. Cowan had told me about drawing the money from the Executors on his death. Mr. Cowan never knew that amount on the paper; never told him any amount; Cowan told me it was good as testimentary writing; I said nothing at all to McCully about the conversation with Mr. Cowan. Mr. McCully, when conversing with me on the bond question, always mentioned the fact of his endorsements on my paper. I never told him how much I was in debt. Mr. McCully once visited my dwelling house, two or three years ago. He brought some apples to the house. I have been married since 1856; have lived here ever since; I would meet him free quently in the market house."

In regard to the haste that it had been said be manifested in exhibiting the paper the same day or the day after the death of Mr. McCully, Mr. Clark put in his denial saying such was not the case. The examination will be taken up again next Tuesday.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Petty Criminalities.

THE Mayor disposed of fourteen common cases yesterday morning. Barney Hague, for disorderly conduct at the Union Depot, was sent to the Work House for thirty days.

GEORGE MONTGOMERY, one of the Mayor's police, is charged before Alderman McMasters with assault and battery, in having arrested John J. Todd for drunkenness, when he was, as he alleges, entirely sober.

ALDERMAN MCMASTERS issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of John Hamill, a butcher living in Allegheny, who is charged by Mrs. Eliza Pfeifer with abusing and annoying a brother of the deponent, who is weak minded.

WILLIAM SMITH and Charles Roberts were the prosecutor and defendant respectively in an assault and battery case yesterday, heard before Alderman McMasters. Smith states that the two were enjoying a glass of beer together when some "misunderstanding" arose, resulting in Smith being badly beaten by the accused. Roberts was jailed.

YESTERDAY morning Mrs. Mabel Blackstone appeared before Deputy Mayor Barker and made information against the driver of car No. 5 on the Birmingham Passenger Railway for running into and damaging a carriage belonging to informant, said carriage being damaged to the extent of two hundred dollars.

ON Thursday evening, at an Irish wedding on the South Side, Bridget Smith and Catharine Gillen became so enthusiastic over the affair that they "went for each other" in earnest. Yesterday morning Bridget made a charge against Catharine for assault and battery, before Deputy Mayor Barker, who succeeded in inducing her to settle the case, and the costs were shared by the two women.

How Strange!

Truth is stranger than fiction, and yet the prices of clothing at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, must seem to many as fiction, as fabulous, because clothing at this establishment is sold at prices so extremely low that the purse of the humblest laborer can not fail to secure a good suit. Many men of small means are deterred from entering places where prices rule high, but the Boston One Price invites all, without regard to fulness of purse.

Boston.

The city of Boston is noted the world over for the enterprise and go-ahead spirit of its people, but it has been reserved for the "Hub," the One Price, No. 95 Smithfield street, to inaugurate an era of "Cheap Clothing" in our midst. This house keeps constantly on hands an immense assortment of ready-made clothing, of a fashionable and durable make, of excellent material, and at prices which defy competition.

THE action of the Italians, looking to the enactment of laws for the suppression of the padrone business, is very commendable. We hope that any legislation that may be required will be promptly enacted, and this infamous business entirely broken up. Language cannot depict the fearful abuse of the system. It has no redeeming features, while its productiveness in misery and crime is beyond description. There should be laws for the most vigorous punishment of those who will enslave and maltreat children, as do the Italian padrones.

THE supremacy of the people over the parties, when an issue in which they were really interested came up, has been illustrated in the California election. The Central Pacific Railroad captured the regular conventions, but the people put up rival tickets, and elected them. Railroad managers out there are not wise in their generation. Non-committal till it can be seen which will win, and then keep the strongest, is the true policy. The best of all is, for the railroad to leave politics alone, and to spend their money in creating the best facilities possible for the people.

THE opening of the investigation of the Canada Pacific Railroad scandal is reported. Whatever else may be said of the Cabinet officials in Lord Dufferin's Government, it is clear that they know how to give evidence. An election fund is admitted to have been raised, but it was by subscriptions, and not advances on account of a charter to be issued. The statements of the Americans are totally denied, and the Government was one of the purest on record. Such is the evidence, thus far. If the royal commission is impartial, and disposed to do its duty, other evidence than this can probably be found.

THE New York Evening Post, a careful and reliable journal as regards statements of fact, explains the report of the officers of the Erie Railroad in a manner quite clear and satisfactory. It is, simply, that the accounts were not fully made up at the semi-annual meeting, six months since, and that the earnings of the road proved to be greater and the expenses less than the estimates. Hence a statement covering a period of nine months was made, for the satisfaction of the stockholders, while the dividend was based on the past six months' business. We doubted at the time the report made by the New York Times, and, for the sake of the Erie road and its new management, are gratified that a satisfactory explanation can be made.

HENRY WARD BEECHER has been claimed by the ladies as an advocate of suffrage being extended to them. He is editor of the Christian Union, which, however, does not make him responsible for all that appears in that journal. Yet the following editorial note is suggestive, not more to the ladies interested than some others we think of: "The women of Wyoming Territory, or some of them, if they are not misrepresented, have entered the political field in a way which justly exposes them to the charge of offering their votes in the market to whichever of the political parties might choose to meet their demands. The result is that the parties—three in number—all refused their terms. Nothing is more essential to usefulness in a reformer than a fair degree of patience and common sense. The attempt to reap your harvest before the seed has fairly had time to germinate, is sure to end in discomfiture; and of all the means ever employed to promote reform, political wire-pulling is the least effective and the most demoralizing upon those who resort to it." There is much sound sense in this.

OUR iron manufacturers take the same view of the prospects of the iron trade that the GAZETTE has presented from time to time as the correct view. The New York Times correspondent visited, among others, Mr. Lyon, of Lyon, Short & Co., who said to him, "Of course, the present state of things in Great Britain must be a good thing for us, because we know that when such a radical rise takes place as has taken place in British coal and labor, prices never return to their old level. But the prospect is not what they think, or rather hope, it is in New York. New York is apt to go wild. She will have to moderate her views of this matter considerably. It is undoubtedly a step in the right direction, and things look more encouraging to the iron master. But you see the state of our market. We are quite quiet. You can judge then whether we think we are going to surpass, or even rival, Great Britain as an iron-producing nation. Nor do I think it desirable that any movement of importance should be attempted till we know something more as to the feasibility, or otherwise, of Mr. Siemens' discovery being generally applied to the manufacture of iron." The allusions are to the fact that our production of iron does not meet the demand, hence our inability to take England's place. The Sieman process looks to the manufacture of steel direct from the ore.

THE struggle for supremacy, in Massachusetts, as between the Butler and Washburne people, continues, and the vote is so close that no one may venture, at this time, to predict the ultimate result. But there are features in the canvass that call for more than passing mention. That the better element in the Republican party is earnestly desirous that Butler should be defeated, does not admit of doubt. His salary grab operations and the defiance with which he treats the better displays of popular feeling are insulting in the extreme. But unfortunately the tactics relied on, and the parties put forward to defeat him, are amenable to criticism as severe as those bestowed on Butler. If it were not for the salary grab, on which the people are anxious to affix the evidence of their disapprobation, Butler would probably have been let through, and elected Governor with but little opposition. He is possessed of administrative capacity of a high order, and is a lawyer of great ability. But with his recent record upon him, and the fear that he aims through the Governorship at other and higher positions, his nomination is doubtful. We regret the struggle, and regret the possibility of the Republican party being put in a false position, through the possible success of Butler. The result, if favorable to Butler, will be reached despite the salary grab, and not because of it.

SOME time since we offered some strictures on our City School system, touching matters which, we are glad to believe, are either remedied, or in process of adjustment. We notice that some of the evils to which we referred were not confined to Pittsburgh, but exist still in other cities. In New York, the papers are engaged in criticising what they term "faults" in their school system. Says one, referring to the primary and grammar schools: "Each has had its own aims and aspirations, its own theory of culture, its own superintendents and local heads. Even when housed under the same roof, the primary and the grammar schools—in other words, the six lower and the seven higher classes, as the schools are now constituted—have remained wholly independent of each other; and though the pupils of the one are theoretically expected to pass into and continue their education in the other, little or nothing has been done to ensure community of spirit in the workings of the two schools or harmony between the methods they employ." Speaking of the effect of this, it is further said: "On being promoted from the uppermost grade of the primary school to the lowest of the grammar, the pupil is very apt to find the trend of his education suddenly shifted and himself 'thrown out,' as the miners say. The two grades do not connect well; and instead of having simply to continue in the same way the work he has thus far been doing, the pupil has too frequently to begin again on another course, losing, it may be, a whole year on a sort of preparatory work of little use to him, unless he has time to follow up the grammar course to the end." We have freely referred to this evil, as between our Ward and High Schools, but are gratified to think the "fault" is in process of adjustment.

THE YELLOWSTONE.

One of the advantages of the agreement made with the Crow Indians, by Mr. Brunot, by which they will be removed to another reservation, is the peaceful opening up of that wonder of the continent, the Yellowstone region. By this treaty, the building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, through that route, is assured, and the great national park thus made accessible to the people. This is a very important achievement, and worthy the effort that has been made to accomplish it. Much has been said and written of the wonders of the Yellowstone, and expeditions have been sent to explore and report its peculiarities. Aside from the volcanic curiosities, are the hot springs, which border the Yellowstone lake. Elevated mounds jut into the water of the lake, and a person standing on one of these may catch trout in the cool waters of the lake, and by turning round, may cook them in the hot water of the spring. The temperature of the water in these springs varies from 104° to 190° Fahrenheit.

The Falls of the Yellowstone are described as being very grand. Says a writer of these: "The lower fall, at the head of the Grand Canon, is found to be 397 feet in height, and the depth of the Canon at its foot 675 feet, increasing rapidly to 1,000 feet. Before the fall the river suddenly narrows, becomes very deep, and assumes a remarkable green color. Large boulders are sometimes carried over the precipice as though they were mere pebbles; yet so great is the height that before the water reaches the bottom it has resolved itself into a dense cloud of spray, which, gathering itself together again, soon after rushes between its mountain walls, battling against the intervening rocks, as a bright emerald green stream, dashed only at intervals with a wreath of snow-white foam. The upper fall is distant from this not more than half a mile, and is 140 feet high, but chiefly remarkable for the peculiar form which the water in its descent assumes in meeting with a number of great projecting rocks. More picturesque again than this are some beautiful falls on Cascade Creek, near by. The stream, after passing through a deep, gloomy gorge, makes a leap of about twenty-one feet, and then falls again in three streams a distance of over fifty feet into a beautiful rounded basin, in which the water is perfectly smooth and quiet, but out of which it takes yet another leap ere it flows away into the river."

To the Indians such a region, wonderful in natural beauty, was of value only so far as it afforded means of subsistence. Its fishing advantages are doubtless considerable, and there is fertile land within the bounds of the reservation of the Crows. But they were directly in the way of the opening up of this grand region, as the railroad must of necessity go through their reservation. This they opposed; but aside from their opposition was the other fact that the land subsidy could not be given the railroad without the consent of the Indians. Now, the most wonderful region on our continent will be rapidly opened up, and the National Park on the Yellowstone will soon be a reality.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE "soap tails" is what the Texas Republicans call the Opposition.

NINE-TENTHS of the editorial columns of the Massachusetts papers are devoted to a discussion of General Butler's candidacy.

THE New York Times does not advise the Democrats to expend their pity on Senator Fenton, but implores them to take in poor John Cochrane out of the cold, and give him a drink and a paper of tobacco, and thus smooth his pathway to the grave.

THE Republican State Central Committee met at Harrisburg on Wednesday for formal organization. Russell Errett, Esq., was continued as Chairman, and Gen. H. H. Bingham as Treasurer. The members of the committee in attendance reported a cheerful political aspect throughout the State.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, VA., has an extensive crop of political candidates, as will be seen by the following from the Christiansburg Messenger: A candidate for office a few days since rode up to a farm house, and thus accosted a little urchin who was seated upon the top of a gate post: "Bobby, where's your pa?" The youngster replied, "Pap's just gone down beyond the cowshed to dig a grave to bury the old dog Towser. The darned old fool killed himself a barkin' at candidates for office. Be you one?" The candidate rode on.

MR. ALEXANDER H. H. STUART, of Virginia, is grieved over the negro again, and has announced to his fellow-citizens that he will speedily issue, for their edification, an address on the negro question in all its aspects, political, social, economical and humanitarian. He complains that, for nearly a hundred years, the negro has been, in his estimation, a disturbing element in our political system. "As a slave," he says, "he caused the war; as a freedman, he is an obstacle to the restoration of harmony." Stuart has apparently been asleep for a year or two, and is not yet fully awake.

Sermon on Extravagant Living.

A "strike" of consumers against provision dealers recently occurred at a Welsh watering place. The visitors, tenants of cottages, deeming themselves overcharged for butter and ham, held a meeting and "resolved" not to use those articles of diet until the prices were reduced. What was the result is not stated. But the corollary drawn from the incident by an English journal may be worth consideration. "People are beginning to find out that many things which have been called necessaries of life, are, in fact, luxuries, which can be easily dispensed with without serious discomfort or inconvenience. The style of living has of late years become far too extravagant among all classes of society. The present high prices will not be without their compensation if they induce simpler habits than those which have done so much to demoralize both tradesmen and their customers. Fewer domestics, fewer fires, less meat, less butter, less luxuries of every description, will become the fashion, until demand and supply have reached an equilibrium." This is a rather serious sermon on a text relating to "ham and butter." Yet, nevertheless, there is a good deal of sound common sense underlying it all.

German Russian Emigrants.

While the prospective immigration of 30,000 Mennonites to this country is attracting general attention, it is interesting to note that 500 German Russians have arrived in Yankton, Dak., in the vicinity of which they purpose to select claims and build houses. These people have been induced to settle near Yankton from the fact that there are already some 700 of their people living in that neighborhood. Denied certain privileges in Russia which they coveted, and which the Czar's Government had formerly granted them, but which have lately been taken from them—among them the privilege of immunity from the military service, and that of speaking their own language—they have determined to seek our soil, where they can enjoy their customs and traditions in peace. The wealth of the 500 who have arrived in Yankton is said to aggregate $2,000,000. Many of them are worth from $500 to $10,000, while some of them would be esteemed rich men anywhere. There are five heads of families of the party who are "worth" respectively $100,000, $60,000, $30,000, $15,000, and $20,000. Four of the number possess money to the amount of $30,000, and two to the amount of $20,000.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

SINCE 1849 the Pope has received 170,000,000 francs in the way of Peter's pence.

DURING a storm in Nansemond county, Va., the house of Charles E. Suvener was struck by lightning and two of his children killed and his wife and another child probably fatally injured.

PAGE MCCARTHY, who killed one Mordecai in a duel, in Virginia, is not to be tried at present, owing to the severity of his own wounds. He will give bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

THE valuation of Boston, recently made by the assessors, is returned at $693,837,400, an increase of nearly $27,000,000 in real estate. The annexation of Roxbury and Dorchester brings about this result.

T. N. YORDE, late Deputy United States Collector at Kansas City, Mo., has been indicted by the Grand Jury at Jefferson City as a defaulter in the sum of four thousand dollars, and was arrested by a United States Marshal.

AN explosion of the boiler at Harris' new mill, Woonsocket, R. I., yesterday morning, killed two men and seriously injured two others. It also demolished the boiler house and did a good deal of damage to the mill.

AT Millburg, Michigan, on Wednesday, a peddler, name unknown, was ordered by a constable to get a collar and license for his dog, threatening to shoot it if he did not comply. He refused, and the officer shot the dog, whereupon the peddler shot the constable, killing him instantly.

THE exploring party of Professor O. C. Marsh, of Yale College, returned to Fort Bridger after an absence of six weeks in the region of the Mintah Mountains. The trip was very successful, and many important discoveries of extinct animals were made. The party left yesterday morning via Salt Lake for the Pacific coast.

ONE night last week a cabin on the plantation of Mr. Murphy, in Fayette county, Tennessee, was burned, and three negro children perished in the flames. The parents had gone to church, leaving them alone, and did not return until the next day, when they found the cabin a heap of ashes and the charred remains of their children. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A TRUE STORY.—A lady was stopping with her little son at a Chicago hotel, and he was fretful at the dinner table until she became exasperated and said to him in an undertone: "Come with me up stairs and I will attend to your case." Pulling back he blubbered out, in a voice loud enough to be heard over most of the well filled dining room: "Say, mother; are you going to take your hand or your slipper?"

A LETTER from Sidney, C. B., says the settlement of West Bay, on Grand Lake, has been almost demolished by gales, and in Bayo Dale twenty houses were blown down. In the port of Caledonia about twenty-five American schooners were more or less damaged. Fifteen of the crew of the steamer Saltwell have arrived in Halifax, and fifteen more of the crew are missing and supposed to be drowned. The Captain's boat is the only one known to have reached shore.

ANOTHER correspondent of the New Haven Palladium writes from Woodbury, Conn., to say that in 1810, when raking in a rye field, he struck a black snake, out of whose mouth ran a striped snake, and out of the latter's mouth thirteen smaller snakes, each about a foot in length. He also, in 1845, discovered a nest containing a dozen young snakes and twice as many snakes' eggs, from some of which the heads of the reptiles were already protruding.

WHAT will California want to raise next? That State appears to think that in her climate should flourish the fruits of the tropics and of the frozen zone. Corn, wheat, rye, oats and potatoes are common to her. She is already engaged in the culture of coffee, opium, cocoa and tea, the planting of grapes, the mulberry, and the growth of silk, sheep and cattle raising, and wheat, and is now beginning to plant cotton, an experiment which will be watched with much interest by every one.

DURING the month of August there was deposited at the United States mint of gold, $686,973.78, and of silver, $96,025.17—being a total of $782,999.05. The gold coinage for the month amounted to $2,393,000, wholly in double eagles; in gold bars, $1,767.20—being a total in gold of $2,394,767.20. The silver coinage was $133,785; silver bars, $10,029.06—being a total of silver of $143,814.06. There was in the same time coined of nickel five cent pieces, $19,250; of three cent nickel pieces $7,140; in all of nickel, $26,390; and of bronze one cent pieces, $7,650—being a total of base coinage of $34,040. The total number of pieces coined during the month is 1,639,850, of the value of $2,572,621.26.

THE results of the Cambridge (England) University Examinations for Women for 1873 have just been published. The examinations were held at nine different places, and 220 women were candidates, against 154 in 1872 and 127 in 1871. The system seems to be steadily improving, and pecuniary assistance is given to good scholars preparing for professional tuition. The candidates who studied at Cambridge stood high on the list, in consequence of enjoying special facilities of instruction obtained in the University town at established schools and through lectures. The failures to pass in consequence of a deficient knowledge of arithmetic have diminished since 1872. The study of Italian is beginning to receive attention. In general mathematics, and in the natural science group of studies, "a first class" was obtained this year for the first time.

"INQUIRER" wants to know why "N. B." should signify "take notice." Well, it's a long story, but we will try to explain it briefly. "N. B." is but an unauthorized contraction of "end bee," or the end of a bee whence the sting proceeds. Now, in good old times, when they lived on locusts and wild honey, they had to look out sharp for the bees, lest they should be stung by what has since been called their "business end." Thus it happened that the people began to warn each other of the end of the bees, which might alight unknown, and the cry of "end bee" soon became a signal for all to take notice. Since that time the cry has been utilized to call attention to any matter requiring immediate notice. But although it has been thus perverted from its original design, and the two words of the cry is now indicated by two letters only, it has become so useful that no one wishes to see it dropped from the language. P. S.—N. B. also stands to "New Bedford."

THE NATHAN MYSTERY.

Story of the Memorandum Book.

From the first we have insisted that Irving's confession of the Nathan murder was not a matter to be treated with contempt. The police, however, have shown a curious disposition not only to refuse to give it the slightest credence, but also to divert public attention from it. The press, for the most part, has followed the lead of Mr. Matsell, and has affected to sneer at the possibility that the confession might prove true. The statement of Irving in regard to Mr. Nathan's memorandum book has at length excited such a wide public interest in the affair that the public have been compelled to give the matter their reluctant attention.

The story of this memorandum book is briefly as follows: Irving alleges that on the night of the murder a memorandum book, containing a few sentences in Hebrew characters and the names of four persons residing in this city, was taken from the dead man's home. In none of the former investigations into the Nathan murder was this heard of. Now, however, Mr. Samuel A. Lewis, a gentleman of unquestionable veracity, comes forward and asserts that Mr. Nathan possessed such a book; that, of his own knowledge, it contained writing in Hebrew characters; and that the four names mentioned by Irving were the names of men with whom Mr. Nathan was connected either by ties of friendship or of business. The fact of the existence of this memorandum book and of its disappearance at the time of the murder is fully proved. How could a fellow like Irving be able to describe the book and its contents unless he had seen it? In what way could it have come into his hands unless he or his associates were concerned in the robbery of Mr. Nathan?

There is something very strange in the efforts of the police to throw discredit upon Irving and to hush up his confession as far as possible. We do not propose to have them succeed in their efforts without a word of protest. The Nathan mystery ought to have been solved long ago. It shall not be further muddled by the willful mismanagement of the police unless they are wholly insensible to public opinion.—N. Y. Graphic.

A Monstrous Blunder.

A comical story comes from Paris, the authority being a correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette. The Shah of Persia, when in Paris, went to the Jardin des Plantes, and was very much pleased with what he saw there, and with the courtesy of the Directors; so much so, indeed, that he made notes of the names of the men of science, with the view of "remembering" them, in the sense in which people who hope to get something ask to be "remembered." The other day His Majesty's compliments arrived, in the shape of "lions" and "suns," and other "orders," which count for a good deal in Persia. Unhappily, the Persian monarch somewhat dashed the pleasure of the "decorated" men of science by an awkward accident. He had noted down the names of MM. Geoffrey, St. Hilaire, Milne Edwards, and other savants; but, in company with them he had also written the names of some of the "extinct animals," whose relics are preserved in the museum; and unluckily the two sets of names got mixed up together. So it happened that when the men of science received Persian decorations, so also did the megartherium, the dinotherium, and other "fearful wild fowl" of the same character.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

MESSRS. SUMNER AND LONGFELLOW are visiting the poet Whittier at his home in Amesbury, Massachusetts.

GEN. FREMONT, it is reported, is dangerously ill at his residence on Porcupine Island, off the coast of Maine.

MR. HUGH MCCULLOCH, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, is to return from England during the present month.

A SOLDIER'S letter, mailed at Falmouth, Va., in 1863, by a nephew to his uncle, has just reached the latter at Lewistown, Pa.

A WARM SPRING Indian who was buying horses at Pendleton, Oregon, recently, had in his possession the ear rings worn by Captain Jack, and sold them to a white trader.

LORD GORDON, it is said, has been seen at Esquimault, Victoria Land; the presumption is that he is intending to embark in some vessel for a South American port, probably Callao or Valparaiso.

OAKES AMES' brother and executor says that his estate will not settle more than $2,000,000, or about one-third of what was estimated at his death. The net results of all his Pacific Railroad operations and speculations turn out a positive loss.

SPURGEON is said to be growing old rapidly, and shows signs of breaking down physically. In his pulpit he leans oftener and more heavily on his desk, his manner is more hesitating, his voice more low and conversational, and there is less vigor in his sermons.

THREE aged agriculturists, brothers, named Tyler, at Griswold, Conn., are mentioned as having put younger men to the blush by their active work in the hay field during the entire haying season just over; the eldest, in his eighty-second year, mowing almost a ton with his own scythe.

"ELI PERKINS" writes that Dan Marks, a veteran baggage smasher, experienced religion at Round Lake, N. Y., and has since confessed in open meeting that he has smashed $13,000,000 worth of trunks in twelve years, and had been too sick a good deal of the time to attend personally to the business.

AN historic character recently died at Lancaster, N. H., in the person of Julia A. Miller, who was the great-great-great-grandchild of King Philip, and whose great-grandfather, on her mother's side, was Mettalluc, chief of the St. Francis, or Abanaka tribe of Indians, whose hunting grounds were in the region of the Magalloway. Her grandmother, the daughter of Mettalluc, and her husband, an English-American, are still living.

Cost of the Late War to France.

The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says: It used to be a common saying here that France was rich enough to pay for her glory, and in those days she little thought of the cost of adversity. Now the attention of the country is drawn to the following items, which show what a costly game war sometimes is. There is the war indemnity, 5,000,000,000 francs; the interest on the same for two years, 300,000,000 francs; the keep of the German troops, 273,637,000 francs; requisitions, 327,581,000 francs; value of objects taken without requisition, 254,172,000 francs; war contribution levied on Paris, 200,000,000 francs; so on till the account forms a total of 6,673,811,000 francs. But this enormous sum does not include pensions to the army, the damage done to materiel, nor the expenses of reorganization, nearly as much again. The average value of a day's work in France is one franc and a quarter, so it is easy to calculate the amount of labor which will be required to repair the folly of a few months of violence and bloodshed.

Iron Experiments.

Some experiments have been made recently in a German iron mine at Hamm, to ascertain the relative efficiency of powder and some of the nitro-glycerine compounds for blasting purposes. The following were the results obtained: Ordinary saltpetre gunpowder, one unit of force; extra best powder, with excess of saltpetre and cherry-tree charcoal, made by L. Ritter at Hamm, three units; dualin, obtained from Herr Ditmar, lieutenant of artillery, Charlottenburg, five units; lithofracteur, from Krebs & Co., Deutz, five units; colonia powder, (a sort of powder saturated with thirty to fifty-five per cent. nitro-glycerine), five to six units; dynamite, six to seven units. It will be seen that dynamite far exceeds the others in power, and its use is displacing theirs in German mines.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.

TO PICKLE SMALL CUCUMBERS AND GHERKINS.

Choose small, perfect gherkins, or cucumbers; spread on platters, mix a small bit of alum, pulverized, with salt, and cover them; let them lie in this a week. Then drain them, put them into a jar, cover with boiling vinegar, and cover in thick with grape leaves. Set them near the fire. If they do not become tolerably green after an hour or so, pour the vinegar into another jar, set it on the hot range or hearth until too hot to bear your hand in it, but do not let it boil, then pour again over the pickles, cover with fresh leaves; repeat this until they are as green as you wish.

A NEW WAY TO SERVE UP PEACHES.

Take good sized freestone peaches, wipe them with a towel, halve them and place them flat side down in hot butter or lard. Let them fry to a nice brown, then turn and fill the seed-cup with sugar, which, by the time the fruit is properly coated, will be melted and form with the juice of the peach a rich syrup. Serve up hot, and if you don't like them you need not repeat the experiment. Most persons think the dish a superb one. Medical writers caution people against eating peaches served up in any form in the evening. It is asserted that they are depressive to the circulation, and exhaust the system by the prussic acid which they contain. It is better to eat them in the morning, or not later than an early dinner, so that some exercise may follow eating to aid their proper digestion.

ROSES AND LADIES.

A well known German florist related, in a high state of irritation, his troubles in this way. He said—"I have so much drouble mit de ladies ven dey come to buy mine rose; dey vants him hardy, dey vants him doubles, dey vants him moontly, dey vants him fragrand, dey vants him nice gooler, dey vants him ebery dings in one rose. I hopes I am not vat you calls von uncallant man, but I have somedimes to say to dat ladies, 'Madame, I never often sees dat ladies dat vas rich, dat vas good temper, dat vas youngs, dat vas clever, dat vas perfection in one ladies. I see her much not!'"

SOMETHING FOR THE BLOOD.

I wish some one, through your paper, would inform me of something that is good for the blood; have been troubled for some time with impure blood, but have not as yet found relief.

Change your diet. Stop eating meat unless it be rare beefsteak or rare roast beef. Eat that but once a day, and not much of it. Drink only cold water. Eat a good deal of fruit, wholesome bread, but little, if any, butter. Take plenty of exercise in the open air. Use no tobacco, and your blood will quickly become pure and healthful, provided you keep clean, bathing at least once a day, all over.

BEE STING REMEDY.

A correspondent of the Gardeners' Magazine writes as follows: "On the 15th of April last, a young man employed near bees had the misfortune of being stung. No remedy being near at hand, I remembered Mr. Gordon's note on the cure of bee stings. I recommended him to apply common soil to the wound, as described by Mr. Gordon, and it immediately relieved the pain and prevented the swelling. Such a receipt is of more value than gold to all who have anything to do with bees. I formerly used common blue for bee stings, but common soil is preferable."

PARSNIP STEW.

Pare and slice together, in proportion to one large parsnip to three or four medium sized potatoes. Cook 30 or 40 minutes in a small quantity of water, so that when you have put in a little flour thickening it will be nearly as dry as hash; though some might prefer it more moist. A little cream improves it. With no other addition than a little salt, this forms a delicious food.

WARMING COLD BOILED POTATOES.

Slice and put them in a basin with a little milk or water, some cream if you have it, and a little salt. Let it remain on the stove until it is thoroughly heated through, stirring often to prevent its sticking, a bit of fish left from a former meal or some beaten egg is a nice addition to it.

ON the farm of John B. Hewitt, Esq., near Penfield, Clearfield county, is presented quite a curiosity. On the hillside, a few rods from Mr. H.'s residence, where the ground is dry the year round, shortly after the terrific thunder storm on Tuesday, August 12th, was discovered a deep rift, the earth being torn up for more than three rods in length and several feet in depth, and the ground rolled over and scattered for several rods down the slope of the hill. The bottom of the crevice is clay, and has the appearance of an upheaval from some cause. A large log lay on the spot, which was thrown some rods distant, and struck with sufficient force to plow the ground out several feet deep. The supposition is, that the eruption was caused by electricity, as there is not the least indication of its having been produced by the action of the water.

SECRETS OF BEAUTY.

Beauty is a gift bestowed on woman, with which to gladden the eye and heart of man. Have not poets sung it from olden time? Do they not sing it still. [illegible] Beauty may be in the hair, the eye, the hand—but more than all, the complexion. With a soft, peach-like complexion, a woman is always lovely, and this can be preserved till a good old age with very little trouble; to a great extent it can be acquired, and it can always be improved. The secret is, keep the blood pure. Should pimples, blotches, or eruptions of any kind appear on the skin, avoid external applications, for remember, the trouble is in the blood. Purify it then by using the Samaritan's Root and Herb Juices, [illegible] and where they got those rosy checks. Price, $1.25 per bottle.

MODERN PROVERBS.

There is no policy like politeness, and a good manner is the best thing in the world, either to get a good name or supply the want of it.—BULWER.

It is one of the first efforts of prosperity to make a man a vortex instead of a fountain; so that, instead of throwing out, he learns only to draw in.—BEECHER.

Thoughts come into our minds by avenues which we never left open, and thoughts go out of our minds through avenues which we never voluntarily opened.—EMERSON.

However deeply the violet may be hidden, its perfume betrays it, and leads to its discovery. It is the same with woman; those only are neglected who are not worth the trouble of seeking.

One of the greatest luxuries of riches is that they enable you to escape so much good advice. The rich are always advising the poor, but the poor seldom venture to return the compliment.—HELPS.

The taste for emotion may become a dangerous taste; we should be very cautious how we attempt to squeeze out of human life more ecstasy and paroxysm than it can well afford.—SIDNEY SMITH.

Nothing really succeeds which is not based on reality; sham, in a large sense, is never successful; in the life of the individual, as in the more comprehensive life of the State, pretension is nothing and power is everything.—WHIPPLE.

One may live as a conqueror, or a king, or a magistrate, but he must die a man. The bed of death brings every human being to his pure individuality, to the intense contemplation of that deepest and most solemn of all relations, the relation between the creature and his Creator.—WEBSTER.

Cheerfulness is an excellent wearing quality. It has been called the bright weather of the heart. It gives harmony to the soul, and is a perpetual song without words. It is tantamount to repose. It enables nature to recruit its strength; whereas worry and discontent debilitates it, involving constant wear and tear.

CORNS.

The surest cure that has ever been discovered for these torments of the feet, is in the Genuine Corn Solvent, which is made by Robinson, of London. It is entirely painless in its application, when the directions are observed, and no one need be plagued with corns, warts or excrescences of any kind on the hands or feet when supplied with one of ROBINSON'S PATENT CORN PENCILS. The cost of the genuine is fifty cents, or sent by mail for sixty cents. They may be obtained in any quantity at KEYSER'S, 167 Liberty street.

NEW YORK, September 5, 1873.

The settlement of the Geneva award by Great Britain and the final payment by France to Germany on account of the war indemnity occurred to-day. The final payment on account of the Geneva award was $1,000,000, of which $239,740 were paid in called bonds and the balance in gold. These two important events attracted much attention in financial circles to-day. Sterling was firmer and higher at 107⅝ for sixty days and 108⅝ for sight. The customs receipts to day were $413,000. Gold was weak and feverish, declining from 115⅛ to 114⅛, amid considerable excitement. It is said that Gould has been a free seller of gold all the week, and that he will lock up money by retiring the currency proceeds. Loans were from 1 to 4 per cent. for carrying and flat for borrowing. Clearings $98,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $100,000. Money was active all day at 7 currency to 7 gold, with a sudden jump near the close of bank hours to 1-16; but one of Vanderbilt's brokers offering to loan $500,000 on New York Central, Lake Shore or Western Union at 7 per cent., the price broke down, and money was freely offered at 7, without any demand. Governments were weak and lower, in sympathy with gold. The asking prices were higher than those offered, and the dealings, in consequence, were small. State bonds were nominal. There has been great weakness to-day in what are known as the Gould stocks, viz.: St. Paul, which declined 1@1½ respectively for preferred and common; Hannibal & St. Joseph, which fell off 2½ per cent, and Northwestern common, which declined 1 per cent. The street is alive with rumors to the effect that the Gould party is in trouble, that Gould has transferred his property to his wife, and that the Northwestern common clique are quarreling. Rumors were circulated of the failure of a leading operator in stocks and gold, but nothing positive could be learned in reference to the report. Other stocks were comparatively steady. The market closed heavy, with the Vanderbilt and Pacific Mail parties actively sustaining their favorites.

PHILADELPHIA.—Thursday's Evening Bulletin says the money market is in a moderately active condition, and we notice both in this and the neighboring markets a steady increase in the business demand for money as the Fall trade makes progress. There are indications, however, which are favorable to a moderate easy market this Fall, as compared with previous seasons. On call the demand is light, though rates are a little firmer, being 6@7 per cent. for the best grades of collaterals. There is a considerable amount of paper, in which the grain trade is well represented, both at the bank counters and in the open market, and at the latter source of supply there is a manifest tendency to higher rates of discount. At the banks, customers are supplied at 6 per cent. as a rule. Reading Railroad sold at 55@55⅛; Pennsylvania at 53⅜@53¾, the latter on time; Oil Creek at 33⅛; Lehigh Valley at 60⅛@60⅜; and United Companies at 122⅛; Hestonville Railroad sold at 18, and Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co. at 75.

CHICAGO.—The Tribune says the volume of currency going to the country is still very large. Probably not less than $10,000,000 of currency have been sent from this city into the country west and northwest of here in the last three weeks, yet the receipts and shipments of grain have been so large that the supply of funds in the shape of exchange has balanced the outflow of currency, and the deposits of the banks have suffered no considerable decrease yet. During the last few days the scarcity of vessels has caused an advance in freights and a decrease of shipments, and has consequently caused an accumulation of grain here, which, if continued, will undoubtedly produce a closer money market. But a large fleet of vessels is expected by the close of this week, in which case freights would probably decline, shipments would increase, and the tendency to the absorbtion of capital in holding grain here would cease.

BOSTON.—The Globe reports that an improved investment inquiry is noted, which is, perhaps, partially attributable to the fact that purchasers are influenced by the large amount of notes maturing at the banks this month, fearing that, unless the demand for renewals is quite general, the supply of loanable funds will be thereby increased. The dealings to-day were at full figures, the recent advance in rates being well sustained; on four months' paper the range is from 8 to 8½ per cent., with exceptional sales both higher and lower. Call loans are still procurable from 6 to 7 per cent., but the former rate is now almost restricted to cases where Government bonds are offered as collateral; some of the banking houses are offering 7 per cent for funds on deposit where they are liable to remain any reasonable time. The statement of the Boston National Banks, as returned to the Clearing House September 1st, exhibits no special feature of interest or importance, there being a slight gain in reserve. Loans are extended $216,800, bringing the total up to $123,447,600. There is a gain in specie of $78,700, and in legal tender of $61,300, and the decrease in the amount "due to other banks" is nearly offset by the increase in deposits.

BALTIMORE.—The Gazette says business has relapsed into a state of comparative dullness, the continued scarcity of money preventing operations of any magnitude being undertaken. Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Stock was quoted at 165@170; the preferred was offered at 102¼. Baltimore and Ohio bonds, 1875s, were in demand at 98⅛; 1880s at 98¼, held at 98½; 1885s at 98, offered at 98⅛. For Pittsburgh and Connellsville 93 was bid, 94 asked.

LONDON, September 5—5 P. M.—To-morrow is a holiday and the Stock Exchange will be closed. Consols 92⅝@92¾; 5-20s, '65, 95¼; do '67, 95⅛; 10-40s, 90¼; new 5s, 91⅛; Erie 47⅛.

COMMERCIAL.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 4, 1873.

We extract the following from the New York Shipping List, relative to the condition and prospects of the grain trade, a matter in which the general welfare of the country is interested, and, as will be seen, the outlook is decidedly favorable for the United States: The condition and prospects of the grain trade of the world always, at this season of the year, constitute an interesting and important object of consideration in connection with commerce. The latest advices from England state that the present English wheat harvest will be from eleven to twelve million quarters, or very nearly a hundred million bushels deficient. The probabilities are that, except Russia, the continental product will not be much more than sufficient to meet home demands, leaving comparatively little margin for exportation. Upon the whole, therefore, the breadstuff outlook is decidedly encouraging for the grain growers and exporters of our own country. The export demand was seldom more active than at present, and the fact that a considerable per centage of the shipments are destined for France, Belgium, Holland, Italy, and Germany, is suggestive of a deficiency of crops in those countries quite unlooked for.

BUTTER—The supply of strictly choice solid packed continues light, scarcely equal to the demand and it is selling readily at 25. Common to medium quotable at 15@20 and inferior 10@12; the inquiry mainly for choice.

CHEESE—The market continues fairly active, and firm, although prices are not quotably higher; we continue to quote July make at 13, to the trade, and August at 13⅛—usual advance over these rates in a jobbing way. Ohio Sweitzer unchanged at 15@17.

FRUITS—The arrivals of Apples continue liberal, and with the market largely overstocked, prices are weak and dealers are all anxious to close out; may be quoted at $1@2 per barrel. Peaches $1.50@2.50 per box. Plums, season about over; $5@6 per box. Berries $1.25@1.50 per pail.

EGGS—The supply of strictly fresh is very meagre, unequal to the demand, and prices are firm, with an upward tendency. Quotations may be fairly given at 20. Old stock in good supply and dull. Quoted at 21@22 in New York on Friday.

FLOUR—The market is firm and quite active, and while there has been no advance here as yet, the prospects just now are that there soon will be. Liverpool, according to our dispatch of Friday, is buoyant; New York ditto, and, as might be expected, all the leading western markets are tending upward. We continue former quotations: $7.25@7.50 for spring wheat flours; $7.50@7.75 for new red winter, and $8@8.25 for old ditto.

GRAIN—There is seemingly an increased demand for all kinds of Grain: and while there has been as yet no advance in prices, a stronger feeling is being developed. The receipts and offerings of Wheat appear to be falling off, and with a steady milling demand, there is a firmer feeling manifested on the part of sellers but no change in rates, $1.45@1.50 for good to prime new red. The Oat market is generally reported firm with a demand fully equal to the supply, but prices remain unchanged, ranging from 40@44, the outside figure for prime old white. Shelled Corn continues scarce, and may be quoted at 58@60c free in elevator—sale of one car, on platform, in bags, at 61. The western markets have stiffened up very materially within the past week or so, and it is attributed to the fact that some of the distillers have again commenced to buy. Rye is in light supply, and we advance our quotations to 85@90. It is impossible to give quotations for Barley, owing to the violent fluctuations in Chicago, which controls the market for the whole country; No. 2 was quoted there at $1.20 on Wednesday, and $1.17 on Thursday.

GROCERIES—The latest Rio telegram, as noted in issue of yesterday, has infused new strength into the Coffee market, and it is now reported as strong as ever. We understand that it is contemplated to advance the price of Roasted one cent ℔ soon, as it is claimed that it is cheaper relatively than green. Sugars firm and moderately active but unchanged. There is an increased demand for Syrups and Molasses, especially for choice New Orleans.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 27; Good to Prime, 25@26c. fair 23@24c. Roasted Rio, 1lb. packages, 30c.

SYRUPS—White Drips, 70; other grades ranging from 60 to 40, as to quantity.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10; prime, 9 Patna, 8@8⅛; Rangoon, 7⅜@8.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 12; Standard A, 11⅜ B, 11⅜; Ex. C, 11⅛c; C, Yellow, 11⅛; Circle C, 11 Lower grades, 9@10.

CANDLES—Mould candles, 12c; Stearine, 18. Star do. 20.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 78@80c Prime 73@75.

HAY—There was a light supply of wagon hay in Allegheny yesterday and to day, consequently the market ruled firmer, and prices ranged from $22@30 ℔ ton, according to quality. Baled is also more active but unchanged, ranging from $20@25.

POTATOES—Continue quiet but unchanged, 70@75 cents ℔ bushel. Sweet Potatoes quoted at $5 ℔ brl for Baltimore's, and $6 for Jersey's.

ONIONS—Sales at $4@5 per barrel.

POULTRY—Spring chickens are quotable all the way from 40@60 cents per pair, according to size and old ones 70@80.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb. 16, Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 11⅛; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13⅛c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 18⅛. Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 10c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10⅛c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 11c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11⅛c. Mess Pork $18.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9⅛. Do. half bbls, 10⅛c. Do. bkts 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12⅛c. Do in 5 lb. 12⅛c; do. in 3 lb. pails 13⅛c ℔ pound. Do. in 6 lb. pails, 12, 5 ℔ pails, 13⅛.

RAGS—Quoted at 3⅛@3⅛c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is weak and drooping; quoted at $3⅜@3⅝ ℔ bushel to the trade, usual advance in a jobbing way. Flax Seed still quoted at $1.90. No call for Clover Seed.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7⅛@8c ℔ ℔.

WHISKY—Highwines have declined, and we reduce our quotations to 99c@$1 ℔ gallon.

PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET. WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Sept. 4, 1873.

The market for pig iron continues inactive; the demand is still very much restricted, and confined wholly to supplying immediate wants. The mills have pretty much all resumed operations, some of them are running double turn, from which it is evident that there is an increased demand for the product, but consumers, for some reason or other, the principal one of which, we presume, is an apprehension that the raw article may go still lower, are still holding off, carrying just as little stock as they can possibly help, and the result, as we have already stated, is a continued quiet market. There is no reason to doubt but what there will be a steady demand from this on, but as stated in our last report, whether the mills will contract ahead largely, or being only for immediate wants will depend altogether on circumstances. If pig iron should give some evidence of an early advance there would no doubt be an active demand, but the supposition is that as long as the market continues in its present condition the policy of consumers will be to carry light stocks. Prices, as compared with last week, have undergone no quotable change; No. 1 Grey Forge, mill irons, are still quoted at $35, 4 mos, although there have been some sales reported as such recently at $34. White and Mottled, $31@33. No. 1 Foundry, $38@40. No. 2, $35@36.

New York Iron Market.—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, September 4.—There has been considerable business American Iron since our last issue, embracing 4,000 tons No. 1 Iron at $42@45; 3,000 tons No. 2 at $38, and 300 tons Gray Forge at $32, at the furnace. This Iron is mostly taken for consumption. Prime Lehigh brands of No. 1 are not plenty, and generally held firm at $45. Many of the No. 2 extra brands are also firmly held at $40 though others considered just as good are obtainable at $36@38, and some even lower when large parcels are taken. We notice the sale of 500 tons Thomas No. 2 at $35, and 50 and 100 ton lots are offering at $36. Gray Forge continues in large stock, and sales have been made at $31@33. One of the Lehigh furnace companies has made sales to consumers during the past two weeks of over 24,000 tons, mostly Gray Forge and No. 2 extra. Besides this we hear of sales of 4,000 tons of Gray Forge by Lehigh companies. These sales were made on private terms, but it is understood that the figures were not as low as some recent quotations. Scotch Pig—There have been advices received here since our last reporting an advance on the other side of 15s on all brands. This has strengthened the market here, and a slight advance is asked. Some 1,000 tons of Glengarnock, Eglinton, Summerlee and Coltness have arrived, but was mostly sold previous to arrival, and the balance all placed at the better figures. The stock here is consequently very light, and as sales at present figures are below the cost of importation, no orders are going out, and but little iron is expected, except that brought by steamers for heavy freight, and but little looked for in this way, as heavy freights are more freely offering on the other side. We quote: Coltness $50@51, Gartsherrie $47.75@48; Glengarnock $44@45, and Eglinton $43@44. Bar—Prices from store are reduced $5 per ton this week. The Philadelphia rate is 4 7-10 cents per pound.—Iron Age.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND NAIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 4, 1873.

Trade in finished irons continues to improve; orders are coming in more freely and nearly all the mills have started, some of them running to their full capacity, double turn. The general tone of the market is increased firmness; it is contended that taking the present value of the raw material as a basis, prices are too low and should be advanced, although it is not deemed prudent to put up rates at this particular time. We continue to quote on a basis of three and a quarter cents for bars, although it is said that some of the mills are refusing to accept orders under this, and three to three and five tenths. There is said to be an active demand for sheets, and there is considerable inquiry for galvanized and corrugated irons; hoop iron has been moderately active all summer. The nail card has been reduced 37½c per keg from $4.75 to $4.37½, but, in fact, instead of being a reduction it is an advance; $4½, time, had been the actual selling price for some time past, with 12½c off for cash, whereas the card is now, as we have already stated, $4.37½, with the usual discount for cash. In a word, the actual card prior to this reduction was $4⅛, whereas it is now $8.37½, an advance, if we understand it correctly, of 12½c per keg.

TERMS—Note or acceptance at sixty days, with exchange on New York, or discount of two per cent. for cash, if remitted within ten days from date of invoice. Payments to be made in New York Exchange, United States Treasury Notes, or their equivalent. No discount on bills of less amount than fifty dollars.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 5, 1873.

The Crude market, is still reported quiet and unchanged; there does not seem to be any falling in the consumption, but the production is in excess of the demand, hence, prices, apparently are barely maintained; may be quoted at $1.15@1.17½ per brl. at Parker, equal to about 3⅛c per gallon, delivered here. There have not been so many new strikes reported recently, and but very few new wells have been started up for some time past, this together with the fact that many of the old ones are falling off in their yield, inspires sellers to hope that prices will soon improve. Refined continues quiet and nominally unchanged: 13⅛@13⅜ on cars here for shipment, and 15⅜@15½ for early deliveries in Philadelphia.

Barrels continue dull and weak, but unchanged; countries $2.15; citys, $2.25.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening, with two feet six inches in the channel. Weather clear and pleasant. Business virtually suspended at the landing.

The Granite State, from Portsmouth, arrived and departed—as might be expected she did not have much freight either way.

The Exchange, noticed in our last report as being aground at Merriman, succeeded in getting off, but at last accounts she was hard aground on Beaver Shoals. Captain Rhodes contemplated sending a towboat and lighter to her assistance.

The R. W. Skillinger is en route from Cincinnati to this port. The Alexander brothers are her pilots. She will have hard work in getting through unless there is a rise, of which there is not much prospect just now.

The Mary Davage arrived from McKeesport, having been towed down by the John Hanna.

The barge of iron ore sunk at Golconda last Winter by the Dictator, and belonging to W. H. Brown, has been raised, and is now en route to Pittsburgh in tow of the James Gilmore... Wm. H. Hall, pilot of the Alice, arrived from Capitina, where he left his boat laid up on account of low water. She has a tow of iron ore for Pittsburgh... The hull of Captain R. T. Cummings' new steamer was towed from Portsmouth Wednesday, and will receive her machinery here. The hull is 135 feet long, and 32 feet beam, with 4½ feet depth in hold. The cylinders are 14 inches in diameter, with 4 feet stroke. She will have two boilers. The wheel will be 14 feet in diameter, with twenty inch buckets... Captain John Keniston arrived from the wreck of the Bellevernon Wednesday night, not at all discouraged because of his misfortune. He thinks the loss on cargo about 50 per cent., and says the lard and molasses will be uninjured. The Bellevernon is in 18 feet of water, and the T. F Eckert is wrecking her... It was rather a coincidence that Billy Shaw, who was second clerk on the Howell when she sunk, was second clerk on the Bellevernon when she was sunk by the wreck of the Howell... The painful news reached us late last night of the death of Captain W. G. Voris, clerk of the Charles B. Church. He was ill in St. Louis, and was brought here yesterday afternoon, and died soon after he had joined his family. Few men could claim so many warm friends as Captain Voris, not only in Cincinnati, but throughout the West... Captain G. E. Bovley died at Shreveport, Louisiana, Monday. His life was insured for $10,000... Rates from St. Louis to New Orleans are the same by steamers as by barges, viz: Flour, 60c per brl, and pound freight 30c per cwt... Only one of the Edinburg's engines was saved from the wreck when she sunk in the Arkansas. The other was so covered by mud and sand on the careened hull that the wreckers were unable to get it out.

—The last number of the Big Sandy Herald says: Last week we announced the sale of the city wharf boat, but immediately upon its removal R. K. Price had another boat in her place temporarily, but we learn that he has purchased an excellent wharfboat in Huntingdon, which will be here before this sees the light, ready for business at the city wharf. Saturday night a thief by the name of Hammon, recently from Ironton, succeeded in opening the door of the wharfboat at the city wharf, entered the bed room in which Captain R. K. Price was sleeping and notwithstanding a light was burning at the time, succeeded in getting the Captain's pants, in which was about one hundred dollars and also his boots.

—Major Sutter has ordered the snagboat Octavia, now lying at Mound City, to ship up a crew and proceed at once to Keokuk and work between there and St. Louis in improving navigation.

—Several bodies from the wreck of the steamer Wolff have been washed ashore near the mouth of St. Francis river and buried.

—Atchinson people have voted $100,000 for a bridge over the Missouri.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—To-night winds up the extravagant performance of the Prairie Scouts, &c., and next week at this place of amusement we are to have something really good, as Mr. W. J. Florence is billed to delight Pittsburgh audiences. He is an immense favorite here and will draw well. The usual matinee this afternoon.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—The greatest sensation in Pittsburgh this week is the extraordinary and unequaled feat of J. Frank Frayne who shoots backward over his shoulder with a loaded rifle at an apple on the head of Miss Clara Butler, and hits it too. It is worth seeing.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Bidwell & McDonough's Black Crook next week.

Till Tappers "Snailed."

Yesterday afternoon a party of three boys, named George Campbell, John Scott and John Martin, tapped the till of Miller's saloon, at Avery and North streets, Allegheny, securing fourteen dollars and a revolver. A short time afterward, Officer Quirk captured one of the lads, young Campbell, and placed him in the lock-up. Fifteen dollars in money and a pistol were found in his possession. Half an hour afterwards two boys walked into the Mayor's office, and with an innocent expression on their countenances, asked if they could not take Campbell something to eat. Permission was granted them, and an officer accompanied them to Campbell's cell. As they were coming out of the lock-up, Campbell whispered to the officer the information that they were his companions. Accordingly they, too, were placed behind the bars, and the trio is held for a hearing.

Habeas Corpus—Lost Child.

A hearing took place yesterday afternoon before Judge Stowe on the application of Philip Edwards for a writ of habeas corpus directed to Wm. Roderman. The parties live on the South Side. Edwards alleged that Roderman unlawfully detained his daughter Leonora, a child of fifteen years, and refused to give her over to the custody of her parents. Mr. Roderman answered that the child, Leonora Edwards, came to his house on Monday evening last, saying her father was "tight," and asking permission to remain over night; and it being after nine o'clock, he allowed her to remain, as he was too ill to go out and make inquiry. She remained until after breakfast on Tuesday morning, and was then ordered to go to her home. She left the house and the respondent has not seen her since, nor has she at any time been under his control or in his custody. After hearing both sides the Court dismissed the writ at the cost of the complainant. The child was last seen on Wednesday night, on Twelfth street, in Birmingham, and nothing has been heard of her since.

Fire in the Seventeenth Ward.

About nine o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the Kirkpatrick Oil Refinery, situated at the foot of Forty-third street, in the Seventeenth ward. The alarm was given and the engines were on hand, and by their active efforts succeeded in putting it out before any serious damage resulted.

The causes which occasioned the fire are as follows: At the rear of the refinery in another yard the Mills refinery is located. There is a pipe leading from a tank in the Mills refinery to two stills in the Kirkpatrick, under which a fire is kept burning. The oil was being pumped from this tank with the intention of conveying it to a tank in the Kirkpatrick refinery, which can be done by turning the cock to prevent its running into the stills; but this was neglected, and the stills being full, the oil, coming through the pipe, caused it to run over into the furnace below, where it caught, and several barrels of refuse oil standing near, instantly ignited, and the oil pouring outspread the fire which was making rapid progress when the engines arrived. In conversation Mr. Kirkpatrick stated that one hundred dollars would cover the loss.

Dissolution of the Well-Known Firm of James E. Burns & Co.

As will be seen by a notice in another column of to-day's GAZETTE, the well known and popular firm of James E. Burns & Co., proprietors of the extensive drug store at the corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, has been dissolved, Mr. Joseph Browne having purchased the interest of the senior partner, Mr. Burns. This store, by the untiring energy and enterprise of Mr. Burns, has been made one of the most extensive and complete establishments of the kind in the city, and the success which has crowned the gentleman's efforts, is proof enough of his superior business qualifications. But half a dozen years ago, Mr. Burns purchased the store from Mr. Super, and from the limited trade it then had, he has built up a business of immense proportions, as his host of customers well know. Located at one of the busiest points in the city, the establishment has become familiar to every citizen. Each department has been made complete in itself. The huge Frost King Soda apparatus, the family and the patent medicines, the extensive stock of fine perfumeries, together with the thousand and one other articles, show the house to be as comprehensive and complete as experience and enterprise can make it. Mr. Burns will remain for a time in the store, and should be pleased to serve any and all of his old friends. An acquaintance with Mr. Joseph Browne, who will remain the sole proprietor of the store, enables us to state that the high reputation which the establishment has earned will be maintained while in his hands.

FRANCE IN AMERICA.

The Birthday of the French Republic Celebrated in Pittsburgh.

Celebrations of French holidays or great national events are something of a novelty in this country, and consequently the one which took place yesterday attracted no little attention. The occasion was the first anniversary of the declaration of the French Republic, and the celebration was conducted by the French Beneficial Society of Allegheny. This organization has been in existence but a few months, and is composed principally of former citizens of the countries of Alsace and Lorraine. The society numbers about one hundred and twenty-five members, and has for its object, as may be inferred from its name, the assistance of French emigrants upon their first arrival in their adopted country. The Swiss Society joined their French friends yesterday, and the two organizations formed a fine procession, both in point of numbers and general appearance.

At two o'clock the procession, escorted by a detachment of police, and accompanied by the Great Western Band, started from the German Savings Bank, at No. 206 Ohio street, and after marching through the central part of the city, crossed to this side, and paraded through the principal streets. As the procession moved up Smithfield street with the Great Western playing that grand old national air of the French—the Marseillaise, the effect of the music and the scene was quite inspiring. The members of the Society on foot, in double file, moved at the head of the procession, and then followed a wagon beautifully decorated and containing little girls, beautifully dressed. A large number of carriages brought up the rear. Several very fine flags and banners were displayed, and a few mottoes. Among the latter we noticed—"Vive Liberty of France," and on another the words, "Five milliards paid to-day and without an emperor."

The procession, after marching through this city, again crossed the Allegheny, by the Sixteenth street bridge, and proceeded to the Turners' Hall, at the corner of Cherry alley and Canal street, where they disbanded. Last evening a grand ball was given at the hall, and the festivities were participated in by a very large number.

DEATH IN A COAL MINE

A Score of Men and Boys Almost Suffocated to Death.

Terrible Accident [illegible] Keeling's Coal Works [illegible] Side—A Pit Locomotive Gives Out in a Tunnel—Cutting the Train and Making for Light and Life—One Boy Killed and a Number of Men Injured.

An accident, bad enough as it was, but which came near proving a good deal worse, occurred last evening, between four and five o'clock, at Keeling's coal works at the head of Twelfth street, on the South Side. Those acquainted with the topography of the country in that vicinity know that there are two hills, one lying in the rear of the other. The top of the first hill can be reached by the Mount Oliver Inclined Plane. Then there is a valley and another hill. Extending through the first hill is a tunnel about fourteen hundred yards long which leads to Keeling's coal mines, and across the open space between the two hills extends the railroad track, on which the goal cars are run, and the terminus of which road is at the check-house on this side of the first hill. Yesterday evening, at the time noted above, a train of thirty loaded coal cars, drawn by a pit locomotive, was slowly coming across the valley, and entering the tunnel in the first hill. There were in the neighborhood of twenty men and boys on the train. The lads had no business there. They had doubtless been wandering over that section of the country, and jumped upon the cars while they were crossing the open space between the two hills. The men were miners, on their way home from work. The train had got about five hundred feet in the tunnel when the locomotive gave out—not enough steam to draw the load. The fireman immediately began to throw coal in the furnace and the thick, black smoke rolled out of the stack in great volumes, filling the tunnel so that to breathe anything else but smoke was an impossibility. The engineer, discovering that they would all be smothered to death before he could get up enough steam to draw the whole train, ran back, and, we believe, uncoupled all the cars but two, which he left attached to the engine, and then drawing the throttle valve, the iron horse, relieved of the greater part of its immense weight, shot off into the darkness and toward daylight. However before the fresh air was reached, the engineer, James Barclay, and the fireman, John Buchanan, both fell senseless and exhausted in the cab of their engine. They had fought the dense smoke as long as possible. The locomotive kept on its course toward the outlet, and when about turning on to the outside track, a laborer named Ackerman, who is employed there, saw no body on the engine and thinking something must be wrong he jumped upon it and partially shut the throttle. At this juncture an old engineer name Joseph Bivins also leaped into the locomotive and stopped it entirely, and hardly a moment too soon, either for had it gone much farther it would have plunged into the check house, and the two men that were in it senseless would undoubtedly have been killed, besides it would have occasioned the destruction of a good deal of property. The engineer and fireman were both found lying against the boiler, and both severely but not dangerously burned. They were taken out and restoratives applied by other hands, while some more of the men took charge of the engine and went back into the tunnel to bring out the remaining coal cars and their freight of human beings. Whether the men and boys were dead or alive, it was an impossibility then to tell. The entire train of coal wagons was finally brought out into the light of day, but one boy, George McClean, a lad of some thirteen years, was killed in the operation. Samuel Palfry, one of the coal diggers who was on the fourteenth car from the engine said that he heard young McClean, who was three cars in his rear, give a short, sharp shriek; he heard him fall, and the next sound that greetek his ears was the crushing of bones, as one of the heavily loaded wagons passed over the upper part of the boy's body. It is said that his head was almost completely cut off. He was a son of George McClean, an operator in the fire alarm telegraph office of this city. The names of the other men on the train, so far as our reporter could ascertain, were as follows: John Nickel, George Altmeyer, Joseph Escher, Richard Leeds and Jeremiah Sharp. In addition to these men there were about seven boys, the names of whom we could not learn, except that one of them was Spinniweaver, a son of the manager of the works. None of them are dead, but at the time of the visit to that vicinity last night several were still suffering from the effects of the suffocation. The body of young McClean was recovered about seven o'clock and taken to his father's residence. Further particulars in regard to the accident may be developed to-day. Some claim that foul air had as much to do with it as smoke.

THE DEATH OF WRIGHT.

Statement of Another Witness—The Coat of the Deceased Discovered in a Pawn Shop.

Although the detectives are busily engaged in seeking light in the bridge mystery, there has been, so far, but little revealed of importance. The young man who, as one of the witnesses testified, seemed to be quite familiar with Wright, and at the time he was lying under the bridge, remarked that he was having one of his fits, has been discovered to be James Park, a workman in Brown's rolling mill, at the foot of Tenth street. Detective Messner sought to obtain his story of the affair, which was told very frankly, though it differed considerably from the statements of other witnesses. Park says that he was not acquainted with the deceased, and never saw him until Monday morning when he was lying under the bridge. He had gone down to the river to cool himself on Monday morning, he stated, when Wright called to him and asked him for a drink of water. This was given him, when the deceased told Park that he was very badly hurt. He could not tell him, however, anything of the nature of his injuries or how they were caused. Wright asked him to look for his hat and coat, which he did, and succeeded in finding the former, but the coat could not be found. Wright then asked him to help him up, but when he attempted to do so, the legs of the injured man seemed to give way. He was then asked to go to a house on Liberty street (not the boarding house of the deceased), with instructions to tell a woman there that "Jim Wright had been hurt and wanted to be brought there." He went to the house, he says, when the woman told him to get a wagon and have him (Wright) hauled up. Upon telling the woman that he had no money, she gave him half a dollar to pay for a wagon. He says that he hired a wagon, helped to put Wright into it, and held his head all the way. When they reached the house where he had been sent, the woman told them they had better take Wright to his boarding house, about a square above, on Liberty street.

A fact which increases the suspicion that Wright was murdered and plundered, is that his coat has been found at a pawn shop, where it was left early Monday morning. The man who pawned the garment is unknown, though every effort is being made to discover him, and if in this the detectives are successful, an important revelation may be the result. The Coroner's jury will resume their investigations on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Monthly Report—Settling Accounts—Sewering the East Liberty Valley.

The Board of Health yesterday afternoon held a regular weekly meeting. Present—Messrs. Arnholt, Arthurs, Edwards, Hays, House, Flemming and President Gross. The minutes of the two previous meetings were read and approved.

The Health Officer presented the following report for the month of August.

Number of nuisances abated, 739; number of permits granted, 205.

Amount received from permits	$410 00
Amount expended	29 25
Balance	$390 75

Number of suits instituted, 23; number of deaths during August, 448. Received and filed.

A number of bills were presented by the Health Officer and ordered to be paid. Among them were charges for horse and buggy to visit cholera patients residing at a distance, and for wagons to take patients to the hospital. The Health Officer reported a number of suits instituted for not abating nuisances, and that disinfection is still going on and a number of nuisances have been abated. There is no cholera in the city now, the health of which is very good.

Mr. Edwards of the Sanitary Committee reported in relation to the nuisances in the East Liberty valley, that the whole difficulty was in relation to sewerage. The place is not properly sewered.

Dr. Gross reported that the City Engineer is now engaged in preparing plans to properly sewer that district.

Mr. Edwards moved that the Health Officer be instructed to send a communication to Councils calling their attention to the necessity of immediate action in regard to properly sewering the East Liberty district according to the plans now being perfected by the City Engineer. Passed. On motion adjourned.

The Western University.

The strenuous exertions, backed by the almost unlimited liberality of private friends, which have been enlarging the resources of this venerable institution, and urging its claims upon the public, have certainly begun to tell. No former opening week of a new year has been so encouraging as the one now closing. The accessions have been not only numerous, but of an every way desirable character. All that is wanting to make the University just what Pittsburgh needs is that Pittsburgh should show that she really feels her want herein, and is ready to appreciate every step toward supplying it. There are men among us who will do for the University whatever the parents and the young men of our community will ask at their hands. Let her halls be thronged; let the cry come up for more room, more departments, more professors, more apparatus, enlargement in every direction—in other words, let it cease to be the case that the University is away ahead of the felt demand of the constituency she would serve, and we risk nothing in saying that the means will be forthcoming.

THE vacancy in St. Peters' (Episcopal) parish, Waterford, Erie county, caused by the resignation of the Rev. Mr. McConnell, has been filled by the election of the Rev. S. J. THE Rev. Dr. Howard, of the Second Presbyterian Church, who has been unable to preach for some months past, on account of severe illness in his family, will resume his labors next Sabbath in the church at the corner of Penn avenue and Seventh street. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the usual service be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

BISHOP KERFOOT, having spent some time with his family at the Jersey sea shore, repaired to New Hampshire, where he has been staying for some time at the foot of the White Mountains. His general health has gradually improved, but he has not wholly escaped the troublesome headaches that were the precursors of his terrible hemorrhages. We learn, however, that he is hopeful of being able to make Episcopal visitations, at least in a part of his Diocese, in October or November.

THE Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Wylie Avenue Church on Sabbath. A series of deeply interesting preparatory meetings have been held during the present week, and the occasion is looked forward to with deep interest. This is the first Communion celebrated by this young congregation in their new building. Rev. Dr. Young, of Monmouth, Ill, will assist the pastor, preaching morning and evening, and assisting in the Communion service proper, commencing at 3½ o'clock in the afternoon. The public are invited.

THE Presbyterian church of Unity, Presbytery of Blairsville, was organized on the 13th of July, 1782, and is therefore ninety one years old. The church building is one-fourth of a mile north of Beatty's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and two miles west of Latrobe. The organization was effected on the very day that the Indians burnt Hannastown. The present congregation owns some seventy acres of land surrounding the church, on which is a very comfortable parsonage. This church building, which is brick, was erected about forty years ago. Rev. W. D. Townsend is the present pastor.

EFFORTS AT INCENDIARISM.

A Young Butcher Discharged—Attempts to Burn Out His Employer.

A rather remarkable case of incendiarism was developed in Allegheny yesterday afternoon, and for a time was the occasion of intense excitement in the neighborhood. The victim of the arson's efforts was a butcher named Rotter, whose house and shop are located at the corner of Lacock and Morgan streets, in the Fourth ward. Some time ago he had in his employ a young man whose last name he never knew, and for suspicious conduct he discharged him. The employee, it is said, was in the habit of carrying large bunches of keys, and when remonstrated with by Rotter, refused to give any explanation or to dispose of them. At other times his conduct was such as to lead his employer to believe him to be not the most honest. Several days had elapsed since his discharge, and the butcher had not seen the young man until yesterday afternoon, when he visited the house and told Mr. R. that he had left a coat in his room and he would like to go and get it. Permission was granted and he went up stairs to his room, and in a few moments returned. He had scarcely got out of the house when smoke was seen issuing from the room he had visited, and investigation revealed the bed to be on fire. Word was sent to the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, whose house is but a short distance away, and the members promptly responded and extinguished the flames. The firemen had left the house and the crowd had mostly dispersed, when it was discovered that the hay in the barn on Mr. Rotter's lot, was ablaze. The Columbia men were again called upon, and a second time put out the fire before it had gained sufficient headway to occasion much trouble.

The second fire occasioned great excitement and fear among the members of thr family, and last evening application was made to the Mayor's office for a policeman to protect the property during the night, as they feared that the incendiary might pay them another visit. Suspicion, and it seems well grounded, rests upon the discharged employee, who, it is supposed, sought that method to avenge his imagined wrongs. As yet he has not been arrested, and no information has been made against him, though it is probable these steps will be taken to-day.

The Favorite.

The public have long ago decided upon which is the favorite and best sewing machine now in the market, but a competent jury of uninterested parties at the World's Fair at Vienna have decided that the Wilson is the best by awarding it the grand prize medal and medal of honor, for being the best Sewing Machine made. Its merits are numerous. It is noiseless, easy to run, will do all kinds of sewing, from the coarsest to the finest cambric, is easily adjusted, simple of construction, will not get out of repair and any child almost can run it. Mr. Lee S. Smith, No 14 Sixth street, is the agent, who will be happy to show its merits to all who favor him with a call.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Third Day's Proceedings—The President's Salary $1,500—Rev. J. H. Hull Elected—Connellsville Selected as the Next Place of Meeting—Fraternal Greetings from Other Conferences—Sabbath Pulpit Supplies, &c.

MORNING SESSION.

The Methodist Conference met yesterday, President elect Westfall in the chair. Half an hour spent in devotions. Rev. J. D. McCormick read the — Psalm, and led the singing of the hymn commencing, "A charge to keep I have," and offered prayer. "Rock of Ages cleft for me" was then sung, and Rev. D. H. Helmick led in prayer. "Blest be the tie that binds" was then sung, and Rev. Bro. Baldwin led in prayer. "Nearer my God to Thee" was then sung, after which the President made a few remarks on the peculiarity of ministerial work, and the tenderness of their relations to each other.

Conference proceeded to business, calling roll, reading minutes, &c.

The following committees reported progress: Unfinished Business, and Sunday Schools.

Rev. J. C. Cromack, of West Michigan Conference, and Thomas Higginson, were introduced and admitted to honorary seats.

S. F. Crowther, J. Holland and W. Dougherty were constituted a committee to assess the President's salary upon the pastorates of the district.

On motion it was resolved that the President's salary for the ensuing year shall be fifteen hundred dollars.

Rev. A. H. Marsh of South Illinois Conference, and Rev. Humphreys of the Presbyterian Church were introduced and invited to honorary seats.

The election of President being the order of the day, it was proceeded with, resulting in the choice of Bro. J. H. Hull, who was escorted to the chair and after a short address business was continued.

A. D. Brown was elected Assistant Secretary to take the place vacated by Bro. Hull's election to the chair.

The order of the day being the selection of a place to hold next session of Conference. Connellsville and Wellsville W. Va, extended invitations. The vote resulted in the selection of Connellsville.

Committee on Education, Collier, Crowther and Dougherty, reported a high-toned paper on this great subject, closing with resolutions of sympathy with all proper educational efforts, and especially those under the supervision of the Methodist church, and pledging aid and support to the agents of the church now in the field.

Revs. Walker and Swift, agents present, made good earnest telling addresses, bringing out facts and items of importance. Remarks were made by Dr. Collier and Prof McKeever, after which the report was unanimously adopted. Adjourned. Prayer by Rev. Brinkley.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was opened by Prof. McKeever with reading, song and prayer.

The Committee on Boundaries and Necessities reported the division of several pastorates, whose interests cannot well be served by one minister, and incorporation of several new localities into the Conference district.

The hour of three o'clock having arrived, Conference suspended business to hear the fraternal greetings of brethren of other Conferences visiting this Conference.

L. W. Bates, D.D., and —— Southerland, D.D., of the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, addressed the Conference as fraternal messengers, proclaiming to the Conference the good fellowship and Christian feelings of their Conference. They spoke of their Conference and this as coming nearer together year after year; as having one origin, and doubtless one destiny. They also represent their branch of the family of Methodist Christians as in a prosperous condition and going forward with the work assigned them, and desiring a continuation of fraternal visits.

Rev. J. B. Walker, and George B. Dotson of Ohio Conference, next presented the fraternal greetings of their Conference. They represent their Conference as in a prosperous and growing condition, and desiring still further the cultivation of friendly relations.

Next came Revs. Dr. Moore and J. H. Hamilton, J. B. McCormick, and W. T. Baldwin, of the Muskingum Conference, and delivered the fraternal greetings of that conference, and asking further reciprocation. The say they are in healthy growing condition.

Rev. Pierce, a young brother from New Jersey Conference, delivered the fraternal greetings of that conference. He states that they also are in a growing condition.

West Michigan Conference was represented by Rev. J. C. Cromack, who delivered the fraternal greetings of the Conference.

Drs. Scott, Collier, Cowl and Colhour responded to the addresses of the fraternal visitors, urging that we come nearer together, for in due time we shall surely be one united Church. It was a very interesting session. Adjourned after prayer by W. Wallace, at half past five o'clock.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Of Newell Institute,

for the year commencing September 8th, 1873.

The Principal of the Newell Institute, on the occasion of the removal of the boys' school from 267 Penn avenue to 47 Seventh street (formerly Irwin), for the purpose of securing improved accommodation for the school, takes pleasure in announcing thus formally the change. The new rooms are very much more pleasant, inviting and commodious than those of the former building. No change has been made in the location of the young ladies' school, as No. 255 Penn avenue, is not excelled, if at all equaled, in its general outfit by any private school in the city—and by few elsewhere.

While thus referring to the location of the Institute, the Principal would not wish to have it understood that the hard-earned reputation of the school is to rest merely on this basis of suitable accommodations. He may be pardoned for saying that although heretofore poorly accommodated, supported by no moneyed interest, save its own earnings, and in the presence of institutions so supported, well accommodated, and largely advertised, the Institute has prospered, and, to say the very least, is regarded as of equal efficiency and merit. This fact has one solution—the teaching has been of the right kind, and the teachers have not spared themselves in their work. The pupils, many of whom are now reaping the fruit of this faithfulness, are appealed to with confidence in support of this statement.

Gratefully acknowledging and appreciating the confidence and kindness shown hitherto, and engaging for the future to protect and improve the record of the past efficiency of the Institute by a judicious selection of teachers, and the same general plan of management and discipline, he respectfully announces the new names of Miss Lily Thacher (music), Miss B. Head in the Ladies' School, and Mr. McCreery in the Boys' School. Also that Mr. Hugh Newell, lately Principal of the Pittsburgh School of Design, and previously connected with the Newell Institute, will be the Assistant Principal, and have charge of the classes in Drawing and Painting.

Terms as heretofore. Catalogues to be had in the Book and Music Stores.

The Principal will receive applications at 255 Penn avenue, from and after the first day of September. Re-opening September 8th.

J. R. NEWELL, Principal.

TTHS

Practical Penmanship.

The ability to write a neat and rapid hand is by no means the least important part of a good business education. In fact, without this, all other accomplishments are comparatively valueless. Deficiency in this has been the cause of failure in many otherwise qualified for important positions. Hence our advice to young men to lose no opportunity for acquiring skill in this particular. And to those desirous of becoming proficient in the art, we would say there is no better place for attaining it, than the Iron City College, where this important branch is regularly and daily taught by Prof. Cowley, every where known, not only as the finest penman, but the most successful teacher in the United States.

Do You Want a Bargain?

Then go to the Boston Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, as special inducements are now being offered to purchasers in the clothing line by this house. The stock is so large and the assortment so varied, that all may be suited. Call in, select a suit and the matter is settled, for you can raise no objections to the price. Good goods, low prices and quick sales at the One Price, 95 Smithfield.

Silver Plated Castors—a handsome lot just received; also silver boquet holders, at very low prices, at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth Avenue.

Fine Carriages.

Having recently visited the carriage manufactory of C. West & Co., we are prepared to say that this is an establishment which is receiving and deserving of a most liberal patronage. The superiority of the work turned out by this house has never been called in question, their aim being to bestow the most exact care and workmanship upon every vehicle which is constructed in their manufactory. With good and well-seasoned material, with experienced and skilful workmen, and honest, reliable and responsible proprietors, there is produced an excellent article of carriage. Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street.

A Re-min-der.

The reader's attention is called to our sale of 200 lots on Mt. Washington, at 2 o'clock, on Saturday, September 6.

ALEX. M'ILWAINE, AUCTIONEER.

No lengthy statement is deemed necessary, as the "Mountain Top," now widely circulated, has familiarized the public mind with a full description of the beauties and advantages of this spot. We may, however, remark that the grounds here offered are as convenient and accessible as any within the city for a home, being but 6 minutes' walk from the head of the Inclined Plane, and fourteen minutes distant from the City Hall; situated, too, in the midst of improvements now springing up on all sides round, overlooking a broad spreading landscape of green fields, of hill and dale, redolent with the glowing beauties of summer, in an atmosphere of supernal brightness, where health is wafted on the wings of the gentle breeze, where the joys and bliss of domestic happiness are made complete by those attractions which Nature alone supplies. These in part are the advantages here offered, with the certainty, also, that all investments here made will rapidly enhance. Terms of sale, ten dollars cash, and ten dollars monthly afterwards.

Blair's Ice Cream is acknowledged by all to be the best. Drop in at 62 Fifth avenue, and try it.

A Reliable House.

In the selection of no other goods than jewelry is it so desirable to find a stock which the purchaser knows to be just what it is represented to be. Good jewelry—that which is of finished workmanship and of undoubted quality—is a pleasure to the possessor; but where such an article can be obtained is a question not always easily answered. Those who are seeking such goods need go no further after reaching the store of George W. Biggs, at No. 159 Smithfield street. Here the purchaser will find a stock not only large and complete, but each article of the best quality and finest workmanship. Mr. Biggs' thorough knowledge of the jewelry trade enables him to furnish to customers such goods as are bound to give satisfaction, while the prices will be found as reasonable as those of any house in the city. The number, it should be remembered, is 159 Smithfield street.

Making Haste to be Rich.

The desire to provide for the uncertainties of life is a most laudable ambition, and fortunate is he who does this with the proper foresight and circumspection. And yet there are many who fall into the error of supposing that the most judicious method of making this provision is by embarking in some great business enterprise which is to make them independently wealthy in a few years; when the expiration of the few years shows them reduced in health, ambition and wealth. But to all we can safely say that the steady and regular deposit of small earnings or savings in a safe and reliable savings institution will be sure to make them rich in these same few years. Deposit in the Smithfield Savings Bank, on Smithfield street, one door from Diamond street.

You will be delighted with it.

Be Insured.

Almost every one owning property is impressed with the importance of having it insured, but every one is not satisfied as to what is the most preferable company in which to insure. To all such we would say that the Teutonia, No. 206 East Ohio street, is one of the very best insurance companies in our midst, because its losses are always satisfactorily and promptly adjusted, and its condition always good. The same confidence cannot be placed in a foreign company as in a home institution, and this being a recognized responsible home company, is recommended as a safe and reliable one in which to place risks. No. 206 East Ohio street.

English Pickles and Sauces, At Blair's 62 Fifth Avenue.

Challenge Competition.

Messrs. Caughey, McCallum & Co. have established a reputation for the manufacture of fine carriages, which is second to none. They have built some most beautiful vehicles for persons in the cities and vicinity. Their work does not suffer by comparison with the most superb manufactures of Eastern cities. And being a home production speaks volumes of advantages over the purchase of Eastern work. This firm is responsible and reliable, and persons procuring carriages of their make can rely upon them being true to the letter of representation. Do you expect to purchase a carriage? If so, give them a call at their manufactory, Nos. 52 and 53 West Diamond, Allegheny city.

Walnut Brackets, Towel Racks, Wal Pickets—a new lot just received at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth Avenue.

Cheap, Good and Durable.

The above bill is exactly filled in the manufacture of wagons and other vehicles, by C Coleman & Son, near Soldiers' Monument, Allegheny City. Read some of their prices: Good, new 1 horse wagons at $60. Good, new 1 horse wagons at $75. Good, new 2 horse wagons at $90. They also manufacture spring wagons, carts and wheelbarrows of every style, and of the most durable material and substantial workmanship. Bargains to be had at the Duquesne Wagon Works, near Soldiers' Monument, Allegheny, Pa.

Fine Pocket and Table Knives, Opera and Spy Glasses, Optical Goods, &c. The largest and best assortment can be had at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth avenue.

New Stock of Musical Instruments.

Mr. S. Hamilton, junior member of the firm of S. Hamilton & Co., wholesale and retail dealers in Pianos and Organs, No. 51 Fifth avenue, started East to-day for the purpose of replenishing the depleted stock of instruments at his well known establishment, and to make selections for a number of leading citizens who have entrusted the matter to him. The new stock which will begin to arrive during the early part of next week, will include first class pianos and organs never before offered at this house. There is no music house in this city where better facilities are afforded customers for meeting their tastes and obtaining thorough satisfaction than at the one designated. We are pleased to note the evidences of success of the firm, and hope to see a rush of customers for their new stock of instruments when it arrives.

Good Reading.

We have received from Messrs. Gildenfenny & Hess, No. 45 Fifth avenue, the following choice literature, viz: "Chimney Corner," "New York Ledger," "Saturday Night," "New York Weekly," "Harper's Weekly," "Frank Leslie," and "Harper's Bazaar," all of which are most interesting and readable numbers. Their counters are always well supplied with a variety of entertaining and useful reading matter.

The most popular resort for refreshment is at 62 Fifth avenue.

This Way, Friend.

I know you are looking for a place to buy a good suit of clothes. Come right in here. This is a One Price house, and the suits are of the very best. They have all styles, all qualities, and the prices are fair and reasonable. Their suits are well made, and made too in the height of the fashion. You cannot do better than by turning in at 95 Smithfield street, for a fine suit.

THE SYMPTOMS OF HEALTH.

Health has its symptoms as well as disease. The clear eye, the fresh complexion, the steady hand, the firm step, the unclouded brain, briskness of spirits, and a disposition to look on the bright side of anything are indications that the animal machinery is in perfect working order. Happy are they whose running gear of life is in this excellent condition, and fortunate too are they who know how to bring it into such a condition if disarranged. All who have experienced or witnessed the effect of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters upon the weak, broken down, desponding victims of dyspepsia, liver complaint, fever and ague, rheumatism, nervous debility, or premature decay, know that in this supreme tonic and alterative there exists a specific principle which reaches the very source of trouble and effects an absolute and permanent cure. E Pluribus Unum might be aptly inscribed on the label, for the preparation is a plurality of remedies condensed into one irresistible antidote.
